Ant colony represents society

Ant brain duplicated in mother brain

Signal transmitted like pulse or heartbeat

Mother brain receives update during every pulse

Signal contains new learning in each pulse

Learning is cumulative

Pulse creates a kind of perception

Ant brains constantly experience change

If pulse was the same each time there would be no change in perception

Time would stand still, learning stops

Diversity creates the maximum potential for learning

Slightly different neural networks, different experience, creates a stronger colony

Learning is not memorization of facts by reaction to any given situation, maturity

Mother brain duplicates all ant brains that are good for the colony, delete ones that are bad.

Mother brain is the accumulation of all good neural networks, constantly learning, growing stronger

Bad ones can't be deleted until given time to work out its final reactions. Then when determined to be only for destruction it is deleted. Future not predictable for any one ant

Philosophy of good technology

AI continues to develop expanding the roll of each unit to its maximum capability.

Bad technology

Isolates and dumbs down the unit to be a destructive force only. A killing machine. We can make mean machines but limits to building functional society

William mcdugal Trained rats to escape the water mains. Children learned quicker.

Grandchildren learned quicker.

Identical Twins have a strong morphic resonance. Study show's remarkable similarities.

Flynn effect- Intelligence continuously goes up.

Karl Spencer Lashley studied rats, cut out parts of brains to see where memory is stored.

Morphic fields exist in nested hierarchy (like 7 adjutants). .

We are close to the point of no return. Science is advancing at exponential rates. Genetic tinkering is a threat, biological weapons, nuclear technology, chemical warfare. Biological robots will soon be a new threat. Mans understanding of his physical environment is outpacing his maturity level to cope with the consequences of it. Ms. Juliet, we simply cannot let mankind self destruct. We will intervene only as much as necessary to insure the survival of civilization. At this time we need the help of a few key people. In the not too distant future you will be the fortunate recipients of an assistant creator son who will be born into the world in the usual way. He will transition civilization to a new level of efficiency. But for now we can only prepare the stage for his arrival.

You can recreate animated life up to the animal level. But never will you accomplish the feat of creating a conscious being capable of overtaking human civilization, said Van. You will never understand gravity. Nor will you ever assemble an atom. These are exclusive acts of the creative deity group. God has given them Sovereignty over the affairs of time and space. Then who is this deity group Van? And why is it that man will never master the discipline to

I intend to build a robot capable of self consciousness. The possibilities are staggering, Alex said excitedly. Wouldn't that be the next step in our evolution? Van thinking for a moment says Alex there is much you have yet to accomplish. The neural network complex you engineered does reproduce some of the more low level animal life functions. But never will you create a self conscious being.

What is tragic in the eyes of a creature of time and space is but a necessary step in the unfolding of a synthesized God. Your world is the unfortunate Rebellion by the celestial government plunged your world into automatic isolation from the inhabits universe. Your world has been in isolation from the inhabited u inverse for over 200,000 years.
